...Now this is going too far," said ...Kate angrily, or at least effecting ...anger. "I have never given you ...or any one, the right to talk in this ...way."

...Well, well, dear," replied Mrs. ...Thurston, "go your own way. On... I hope you won't have to repent ...it for Harry is not to be trifled with ...to a certain point; he has one ...of those deep and strong, but pa... natures that will bear a great ...deal, but which, once offended, is al...ways alienated forever."

...Kate and Mrs. Thurston had been ...school together, and the friend... formed then had continued ever ...since. Mrs. Thurston was the eld... by a couple years, and had been ...married for more than a twelve...month so that she had, as she cor...rectly thought, some little right at ...last to speak to Kate as she had ...done.

...It was a gay party that had as...sembled at Beechcroft, the country ...seat of Kate's father. Among the ...guests two were pre-eminent—Stanhope, on account of his ...great wealth, and Harry Talbot, ...the latter was not with fortune, ...though he was no millionaire; but ...he was handsome, talented accom...plished, gay, spirited, and brave, ...for the first time in his life he was ...seriously in love, and it was with ...Kate.

...Kate was to her justice, hardly ...knew her own mind. She was the ...belle of her set, and fond of admira...tion—so fond of it that she just es...caped being a flirt. But she had ...sterling qualities, and really liked ...Harry more than she supposed. ...In their first acquaintance, she had ...been very gracious to him, but as ...Harry grew more in earnest, she ...drew back. It was not that she ...cared him less; it was an uncon...scious, which we leave our fair ...readers to explain; only she con...cealed this timidity under the guise ...of gay indifference. She coquetted ...with others, especially with Stan...hope.

...As for Harry, he was puzzled.—...Affairs went on in this way for ...a week or so, answering her merry ...raillery with a wit not less keen ...than her own; but he grew tired at ...last of this state of doubt, and re...solved to know his fate. He chose ...a very morning on which Mrs. ...Thurston had been taking Kate to ...task. It was, perhaps, unfortunate ...for him that he did, for Kate was a ...good deal annoyed by the conversa...tion, and Harry was made to suffer ...for it.

..."I saw you turn into the garden ...path," cried Harry, overtaking Kate, ...just after she had parted with her ...friends, "and I took the liberty of ...following you. We are all jealous ...of your roses, you know, you give ...them so much of your time."

..."You must admit," she answered ...coolly, "that they repay it. A lit...tle kindness in the way of pruning ...and watering, and lo! how they ...bloom and smile back at you."

..."And don't you think others ...could smile back?" said Harry ven...turing on dangerous ground.

..."I never cared to make them," ...coldly answered Kate, snaping off ...some dead wood. "One may like ...flowers and not care for—"

..."For what?" said Harry, his ...heart beating fast.

..."Well, bears, let us say. Lead...ing a bear about is quite different, ...for example, from tending a rose ...garden."

...There was a saucy look in her ...eyes, which gave point to her re...marks. Harry was disconcerted for a moment, but for a moment only.

..."It isn't every bear that would be willing to be led about and made a show of. There are bears and beaux," said he sturdily.

...It was now Kate's heart that beat fast. For some reason Harry was terribly in earnest this morning. She lost courage and turned the conversation.

..."We go to the Black Mountain don't we, after lunch? I must hurry, or I shall not be in time."

..."And I believe I am to have the honor of driving you."

...Now this was a fact. But Kate was half angry at Harry's sturdy speech. Her saucy remark had brought out a retort she little expected. To be revenged she determined to ignore her promise.

..."To drive with you! Surely you must be mistaken."

...Harry blazed up instantly. What did this mean? Was she going coolly to throw him over? But he controlled himself, and said calmly.

..."I thought I asked you yesterday, and that you accepted."

...Kate buried her face for a second in a cluster of roses. On that moment's hesitation hung her future life. She had a dim presentment of this, but it was too late to go back; she was in a mood to sacrifice everything rather than beat a retreat.

..."People think a great many things sometimes," she answered, "in which they are mistaken."

...Harry drew himself up to his full height and made a bow.

..."A gentleman, at any rate, Miss Murray, never thinks his memory is right when a lady says it is wrong."

...Kate never admired him so much as at that moment. Even then it would not have been too late if she had retreated from her position. But something, an insane impulse which our fair readers may comprehend, drove her even farther.

...That is well," she said. "The truth is," and she looked Harry full in the face, "I am going to drive with Mr. Stanhope."

...Harry bowed again, and was about to go. But he turned on his heel, as if by sudden impulse, and said:

..."My memory is faulty, I fear, in more than one particular. I forgot until this very moment, that I was going to New York this afternoon. So I had best make my adieus."

...This was a home-thrust. But Kate was equal to the occasion. "I think women generally are; at least they are more so than the men. Kate felt that she had lost Harry forever, and in feeling it realized fully, for the first time, how much she had lost. She would have given worlds to recall the last five minutes. In fact she would have done anything except sacrifice her pride. But she met the crisis bravely.

..."Going! Dear me! how sorry they'll all be, especially Fanny."—The point of this was that Harry had paid Fanny Livingston more attention than anyone except Kate. "But stay, I must not let you go without some remembrance: here is a rose; it is the last one, I suppose, you'll see at Beechcroft this year; we'll call it 'the last rose of summer,' if you please. Only, pray, don't give it to Fanny. She has no notion of being left to 'pine on the stem' That's the phrase, isn't it?"

..."I promise you that," said Harry, also equal to the occasion, "that I'll not give it to Fanny. I'll keep it to remember you. 'The last rose of summer!' You have chosen your name capitally. Good-bye Miss Murray."

...The cutting tone, the mock courtesey with which this was said, the low bow, were all inimitable. On the whole, I think Harry had the best of it.

...Nevertheless, he was in no gentle mood, as he took the Hudson river train that afternoon, and was whirled off to New York. He anathematized, I have no doubt the whole sex; we men generally do in similar circumstances. He remained a few days in New York, but his mood did not improve. Now and then an insane notion would sieze him, as it has done others like him, that Kate would repent; and the post-man never came round, that Harry did not expect a scented three-cornered billet, the counter-part of three or four others, which he had received from her at different times, and which he sacredly treasured. But no billet came. At the end of a fortnight, as he came out of his club, he met an acquaintance who had just left Beechcroft.

..."We missed you there, dreadfully, after you left," said Charley Howard. "Fanny was quite cross for a day or two; none of us fellows could get a word from her. But in spite of this, we were sorry you went, all of us, except Stanhope. Yes! I must except Stanhope.—He's been making his innings ever since with Miss Murray. The talk is they're engaged, and I suppose it's true. A brave fellow is Stanhope, for, between you and me, Kate is too much of a stunner for most men."

...Charley had no idea of the pain he was inflicting—rattle brains like him never have. But Harry, in consequence of that chance of meeting, went home, burned the three treasured notes, and sailed for Europe the next Saturday.

...Meantime, the summer months passed, and Beechcroft, which had been crowded until September, began to empty. Kate was now left comparatively alone. At first, she had flirted desperately with Stanhope, and had almost made up her mind to marry him. If he had asked her, the night after Harry had sailed for Europe, perhaps she would have accepted him—pique will do much in cases. She was spared a folly she would have regretted all her life. Stanhope had not yet summoned courage, and when he did her mode had changed.

...But others came, and other fortunes were laid at her feet, for never had Kate been so brilliant as during that summer. It was to no purpose. Kate was too noble to marry a man she did not love, even though she was too proud to admit her error and recall the man she did love. A word would have done it; but she would have died rather than write that word; and we suppose every other woman would havd acted like her.

...So the summer went and autumn came. Now and then, at first, she also was insane enough to think that Harry would write; but this delusion soon passed away: she realized, as Mrs. Thurston had told her, that Harry, once lost, was lost forever.

...October had come. The leaves were beginning to flutter to the ground, cold wind to blow, even the last roses to fall. The summer guests had all departed, even Mrs. Thurston and Kate was alone.

...It was such a relief to her! Of late it had been as much as she could do to keep up appearances. Pride had died out long ago.

...One day she was in the garden, thinking of all this, and it was with difficulty she could keep back the tears. She recalled the last conversation between her and her lover. Ah! what earnestness and passion had underlain Harry's half-jesting tones. To have been loved in that way, and yet to have flung it contemptuously aside!

...Suddenly she stopped. A solitary rose caught her eye, the only one she had seen that day, the last one, perhaps, of the season. She plucked it mechanically singing in a low, sad voice,

> "'Tis the last rose of Summer

...She was quite unconscious of what she was doing. Leaning her head pensively on her hand she regarded that solitary rose, with her thoughts far away.

...All at once, from the other side of the garden wall, a manly voice began to sing saucily,

> "I'll not leave thee, thou lone one,
> To pine on the stem——"

...She started coloring violently. Was it possible? She knew that voice! Who would dare but Harry. And would even he——

...Shame, embarrassment, anger, love, all agitated her at once. A few months before the anger would have triumphed. Now it was the shame.

...She turned to escape. But bewildered, ignorant where she was going, only ran into the arms of Harry as he entered the garden gate.

...What did she do that, proud Kate but burst into tears, and then struggled to get away. But Harry held her tight, and even drew her head to his soulder, and as he could not get at her lips to kiss her, for she resolutely turned face away, he kissed her hair.

..."Darling," he whispered, soothingly. "forgive and forget. Don't you love me, after all, Kate? God knows I love you."

...Kate made no reply, but she ceased trying to escape. Gradually her sobs ceased. At last, Harry, putting his unoccupied hand under her chin, gently raised it and kissed her full and fair on the lips.

...She smiled at him for an instant through her tears. Then she blushed rosy red, and sprang away from his arms like a young leopardess.

..."You horrid, horrid wretch!" she cried. "Don't think I mean it. You took one so by supprise, one doesn't know what one did——"

..."Nor I either, Kate dear," said Harry, coolly advancing and recapturing her. "So, to make sure, suppose you do it again knowing what you do.

...Kate blushed rosier than ever, and looked at him rebelliously; but seeing that he was in dead earnest, put up her lips as meekly as a lamb.

..."I only permit it, to save you the cost of another trip to Paris," she said, saucily, however.

..."Of course," said Harry: but he took another kiss notwithstanding.

...Now to explain how Harry came there. He had been as unhappy as Kate. Even foreign travel had no charms for him. He had struggled through the summer, and at last returned in sheer dispair. At New York he heard that Kate, instead of getting married to Stanhope, as he had expected, was still single; and at all the clubs it was said that the millionaire had been contemptuously rejected. On hearing this, Harry had taken the train to Beechcroft, had been told on arriving, that Kate was in the garden and had sought her there—with what result we have seen.

...I think Kate and Harry are the happiest couple I know. Perhaps it is because they had their quarrel out before they were married, though I cannot say I reccommend anybody to imitate them; the best way, I fancy, is not to quarrel at all. They still rally each other, however, as sarcily as ever.

..."You are not going off to Paris, in a huff again, though I did talk to the French Ambassador all dinner time yesterday," said Kate, going to the door one day after breakfast. "So we may as well settle where we shall spend the summer. At papa's, or Newport?"

..."At Newport. I'll not go to Paris it might make you sentimental again."

..."You're a real old, ugly bear," said Kate effecting a pout.

..."Better a bear," answred Harry running down the steps and looking mischievously back, "than a last rose of summer.—eh! Kate."

Virginia, April 19th.—The different shafts of the Gold Hill mines were opened on Saturday night and yesterday, but how matters stand it is impossible to determin, as efforts are made to keep the public in ignorance or from embarrassing operations. The Yellow Jacket shaft is blockaded completelp, on outsiders being admitted within the building. No fire was discovered in the Crown Point, but a three inch pipe was being put down to the 800-foot level to inject steam, if fire should be discovered. There is less than 200 feet of of water in the Crown Point shaft. The fire did not extend north from where it was originally discovered, but worked south, through the Kentuck and Crown Point. About midnight last night William H. Williams was killed in the Yellow Jacket. He had been down to the 400 foot level, when, feeling sick, he desired to go up and got in the cage and started to go up, but sinking down from fainting, he was caught by the timbers, drawn out of the cage and fell 500 feet to the bottom of the shaft. He was afterward brought up, nearly every bone in his body broken and his head torne off below the chin. He was a native of Cornwall, Canada, and leaves a wife and three children. Several other workman were baldy asphyxiated but no other serious accidents are reported. James Gluis, a miner in the Confederate mail, of the old Chollar croppings, fell this morning a distance of seventy feet with the in which he was being hoisted. He was severely, and it is feared, fatally injured.

In April, 1868, the small pox made its appearance in this city. It did not assume an epidemic character untill some four months thereafter. Its malignant character culminated in November and December—the disease being the most vistulent during those months. It seams now to be nearly at its close. Last week there were but three deaths from small-pox, and only five new cases of the disease were reported. Appearances indicate that the commencement of May will find the city nearly, if not quite, rid of pestilence which has carried off about 700 people, and directly affected nearly 3,500.

The Dublin Freeman of Feb. 20 says:—Our columns to-day contain gratifying evidence of the interest which the people of Dublin take in the erection of a cathedral for the diocese of Elphin, which has been so energetically undertaken by the Most Rev. Dr. Gilooly, the esteemed prelate of the diocese. We need not remind the Catholics of the metroplis of the many claims their co-religionists of Elphin have on their friendly assistance. They are well known, and we feel satisfied they will be generously acknowledged.

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

Dublin.

There recently died in the South Union Workhouse, Dublin, a man named Matthew Pheton, at the very advanced age of 108 years. The deceased had been in good health up to within a few days of his death, and had occasionally worked at his trade, as a carpenter, until quite recently. A week before his death he told daughter, herself an aged woman, with whom he resided in Fisher's-lane, that, for the first time in his life, he felt unwell, and, therefore, he would go into the work house to die, that she might be spared the expense of burying him from her slender means. Accordingly he went to that institution, where he died in a very few days. The old man retained his intellect and intelligence, which was remarkable, to the last. One of his reminiscences was a recollection of seeing Lord Edward Fitzgerald dragged out of the house, 102 Thomas street, in which he had been arrested, bleeding from the wounds which had been inflicted on him in his struggle with his captors. Pheton, who at that time resided in Hoey's court, formed one of the crowd which was attracted by the spectacle, and, for uttering some word of sympathy for the gallant prisoner, was struck to the ground by one of the satellites of Sirr, Swan, and Ryan, by a blow on the head with the butt end of a pistol. To his dying day Pheton bore the scar inflicted on that memorable occasion.

A man named Henry Atwell, aged 95 years was found dead in a ditch, near Crosthwaite Park, on the night of the 19th ult. He had been visiting his son-in-law, and had gone out for a stroll before dinner, when, it is surmised, he fell into the ditch, which had water in it, and, being unable to extricate himself was suffocated.

The Irish Times, of the 10th ult., says: "A man, who stated his name to be John Howard or Dunne, was arrested at Dundrum, in the county of Dublin, on last evening (9th ult.), charged by the constabulaay with having used seditious language and shouted "to hell with the Queen," persisting in same, and denying the authority of the police to arrest him, he being an American. He stated he was born in Cincinnati, and was by trade a sailmaker. The prisoner was sober, is of unmistakable American appearance and accent, low sized, and about 30 years of age. He was remanded for further examination."

"Master McGrath," the famous Irish greyhound, has again beaten, on the plains of Altcar, in England, all the "crack" English and Scotch dogs, competing for the Waterloo Cup. The Liverpool Post says:—The final tie was intensely exciting, the question to be decided being whether the Cup should go to "Auld Ireland" or be retained on this side of the Channel. A splendid hare started up, and "Master McGrath" drew away from "Bab," but made rather a wide turn, letting in and serving the other. The Irish dog, however, was in again in an instant, and proved a closer worker than Mr. Blanchard's dog. Having turned to Bab," Lord Lurgan's favorite came round on the inside, and never afterwards left the hare, which, with aterrible lunge, he gripped in a magnificent manner. Lord Lurgan has thus been fortunate in giving to his countrymen "the Blue Ribbon of the Leash," for which there is annually a keen and spirited contest on Altcar plains. When the flag was hoisted, tremendous burst of cheers were given by the spectators, all of whom, without an exception, must have agreed that the Cup was honorably and deservedly won.

Wexford.

At a late meeting of the Wexford Harbor Commissioners a petition was addressed to the House of Commons praying that the principal of the Harbor and Passing Tolls Act of 1861 may be extended so as to enable the Public Works Loan Commissioners to grant loans to public harbors for the extinction of existing debts. At the same meeting an application was considered from the Waterford and Wexford Railway Company for leave to run a tramway along the Quay of Wexford. This tramway is intended to connect the extension of the Dublin, Wicklow, and Wexford Railway with a projected line from Ballygeary Bay to Wexford. The required leave was granted.

On the 23d ult., in the chapel attached to the Convent of Mercy, Wexford, Rev. Patrick M. Furlong was ordained Priest by the Most Rev. Dr. Furlong, Bishop of Ferns. The young clergyman is a Professor in St. Peter's College, Wexford; and brother of Rev. John Lambert Furlong, Administrator, Enniscorthy.

Kilkenny.

A correspondent of the Dublin Freeman announces, with regret, the demise, on the 7th of February, of Patrick O'Shea, Esq., senior, of Castlecomer, and adds:—The total suspension of business and the number who thronged the large and spacious church of Castlecomer to pay the last sad tribute of respect to the departed, amply testified the respect in which the deceased had been held by all classes, and as the coffin, containing all that was mortal of this estimable gentleman, was lowered into the vault, many a fervent prayer ascended to the Most High for the eternal repose of the members of his large family, who now sleep in the silent repose of the tomb.

King's County

The Tipperary Advocate says:—The graveyards in the Parsontown Union are about being fenced. The cost is estimated at £370.

Kildare.

On the night of the 17th ult., some person or persons broke into an outhouse, the property of Mr. James Marr, Leinster street, Athy, an inoffensive and industrious man, who carries on the business of letting out hackney cars for hire, and selected from amongst a number of various kinds of vehicles a handsome covered car, lately purchased by him in Dublin, completely destroying the cushions attached to it by cutting tearing them into small pieces, besides doing a considerable amount of damage otherwise, so as to leave it unfit for usage. Marr is the district forwarding agent in connection with, and appointed by, the eminent firm of Fishbourne & Sons, Dublin.

At a late Naas petty sessions, informations were taken against a respectable looking man named Joseph Nolan, of Ballymore-Eustace, on a charge of having stolen £7 5s. from Mr. Glennon, publican, in Naas. The case was sent for trial at next assizes.

Rev. Edward Byrne, P.P., Carberry, county Kildare, died on the 18th ult.,

Carlow.

The Carlow Post has the following:—Some months ago we noticed an occurrence of a very suspicious character in reference to the death of a man named Townshend, touching which Mr. Campion, coroner, held an investigation at Old Leighlin, in December last. The deceased, a widower, advanced in years, and the father of ten children, resided near Bagnalstown, and had a short time be[illegible] a young widow. Townshend died in March, and a short time afterwards the widow married a man named Hayden, residing at Grangeford, in this county. A woman who had nursed deceased, subsequently stated she gave him poison by order of his young wife, who promised her money for the deed; thereupon, an analysis of the remains was ordered and poison has been discovered in the intestimes of the dead man.

Longford.

A correspondent of the Irish Times, under a late date, says:—A few evenings since Hermitage, near the village of Newtownforbes, county Lonford, was the scene of much rejoicing, on account of Miss Frances Carleton Ellis, daughter and heiress of the late Thomas Ellis, Esq., attaining her age of 21 years. A considerable number of tenantry on the estate, principally from the townlands of Cartrongar, Cloonellan, &c., met together at Hermitage, where bonfires were lighted, and dancing, with othe amusements, engaged in, till late in the morning. Abundance of refreshment was supplied, and everything passed off most satisfactorily.

The county Longford assizes were opened on the 23d ult. by Baron Fitzgerald, who, in addressing the grand jury, congratulated them on the peaceful condition of the county with respect to crime. There were but few numbers on the calendar, only seven or eight indictments would be laid before them; none of which demanded any particular remark.

Louth.

The Irish Times, of Febauary 10, says: Francis Hamilton, Esq., J.P., of Slane, and Mountjoy square North, Dublin, aged 69 years, has succumbed to the brutal treatment he received at the Drogheda election when he was prevented from giving his vote in favor of Sir Francis Leopold McClintock, K. C. B.

Antrim.

Derry.

In the Court of Probate Dublin, a suit entitled "Hughey v. Hughey" was recently brought to establish the will of George Hughey who resided near Derry and held a farm in the county Tyrone. The will was propounded by the brother of deceased and disputed by the nephew. The case was arranged in court, plaintiff paying to defendant £115, each party to bear his own costs.

An infant about four months old, the child of a man named Daniel Cameron, of Colcraine, was accidentally suffocated on last Sunday, 21st ult., in bed, where she was lying between her father and mother.

The Derry standard says:—We have, upon futher investigation as to the fact of the huge stone about to be hurled on the heads of the unoffending celebrants of Sergeant Dowse's victory, learned that the night-watch came suddenly upon four or five men, whom they describe as in the act of hurling down the stone, it being just upon a balance and at a right angles to the Wall; when one of the policemen providentially prevented them from accomplishing their diabolical purpose. As we before stated, we think it strange, indeed, that no steps have been taken for a public investigation of this most serious matter.

Tyrone.

The Dungannon correspondent of the Dublin Freeman says:—The Orangemen of Moy appear to be greatly incensed about some devices on the interior of the roof of their church, which has been recently renovated and altered at very considerable expense, and is now really a handsome structure; but the architect has had the audacity to dot the spaces between the rafters of the hexacon roof over the communion table with golden stars on a blue ground, and the incumbent of the parish the temerity to cause to be printed, on the semicircle which supports the frame of the roof, the text, "My flesh is meat indeed, and [illegible] indeed," &c. The is more than Orange Protestantism in the county Tyrone could [illegible] and the consequence is, the Orangemen of Moy belonging to the brotherhood have determind to put an end to those "Popish devices" and on last Sunday night, Feb. 14, threatening notices, addressed to the incumbent, the Rev. Mr. Carter, were posted on the church gate and on the schoolhouse of the town warning him that if the "stars" and objectionable text were not obliterated within eight days, the Orangemen of the neighborhood would feel it to be their bounden duty to have it done by force.

Donegal.

The body of a newly-born female child was recently found in a stream of water in the townland of Dramore, near Letterkenny, by a cattle-herd named Richard McEllwiney. On examination, Dr. Smith said the child was born alive, but might have died from natural causes.

The Catholic Chapel of Convoy, near Rapho, county Donegal, was recently feloniously entered, and a quantity of altar plate, including three silver chalices and six candlesticks, stolen by the sacrilegious robbers who entered by raising one of the windows.

Galway.

Doctor John Barton was lately appointed medical officer to the Laurencetown (Ballinasloe) Dispensary.

The Galway Vindicator announces the demise on Sunday, Feb. 21, in that city, of Mr. P. J. Mangan, of Gort, at the early age of 32 years.

Recently in the Landed Estates Court, Dublin, the following was estate of John De Burgh Lynch was sold:—The dwelling House in Flood street, Galway, known as "The Mayoralty House," held from year to year; yearly rent £30. Sold to Mr. Blaquiere, in trust, for £450.

Clare.

Robert W. Carey Reeves, Esq., J.P., Bosboro' Knock, has been sworn in as high sheriff of the county of Clare, and has appointed Henry Greene, Esq., Brookville, Ennis, to the office of under sheriff, which he has filled for a number of years. The short card players and thieves who infest the river boats have become so numerous and during of late that a special officer has been detail from the city force to work against the rascals. These sharpers go up to Benicia and other points, and then take passage on the down boats. They manage to rope in countrymen and rob them on their downward passage or finish their game in this city. Lately they fleeced a countryman out of $2,600 in this manner, starting in on him on the boat and winding up when they arrived here.

New York, April 23d.—The Hearld's special from London says the Post has an article on the Cuban question, and gives currency to the assertion that Grant desire the acquisition of Cuba in order to divert the attention of the American people from internal distractions. The French press has agitated the question much in the same tenor. A telegram received states that Secretary Fish informed the Spanishe Minister that the United States will hold the British Government responsible for the seizure of the Mary Lowell.

Montreal, April 23.—Galt's motion for a claim against the United States for indemnity for damages done by the Fenian invasion, is creating no little stir. It gives a chance for speculations as to the probable result to the country of a rupture between Great Britain and the United States. At a special meeting of the Quebec City place which at one time threatened to be serious. Revolvers were drawn, and some blows exchanged. The Mayor attempted to restore order, but his authority was defied, and the police were finally called in and despersed the meeting.

NOTES OF TRAVEL,

BY THE EDITOR

The Irish people, at the present day, ...mixed up with the people of other ...ns, nearly the world over. Without ...tionality of their own, or even an ...liance or "union" with one of their own choosing, they occupy, as a people, an unenviable, a forlorn position to the view of mankind. In fact Ireland, in every sense of a national character, has long been blotted out, erased from the eye of the world, as well as from the "map of Europe." It is only in the minds of her own ever faithful sons and daughters, in their souls, in their hearts of hearts, is the nationality of Ireland engraven, fastened, and imbedded in the enthusiasm of undying love. There it is, there it will live, move, grow, until it will awake to new life, go forth, establish its dominion, and astonish the world. To resuscitate the long crushed vitality, the almost dying embers of Irish nationality, into a living, powerful flame, is the desire and constant aim of all her true children. While the world may, or may not, look, with cold indifference, upon the scene, it is, to the countless exiles of Erin, a conflict of the most important character. The Celtic element is full of genius and power; it wants but freedom from thraldom to come forth in its majesty. The Irish character is brave, generous, high-toned and masterly. It is a matter of wonder as well as of regret, that it has succumbed to the oppressor and stranger for so long a time. But appearances indicate that the day of her deliverance draweth near. Ireland will yet be a nation, and a powerful one amid the nations of the globe. Her armies will march to victory; her fleets will be strong on every sea and ocean; her laws, her commerce and her literature will be triumphant; her people will be happy—their nation will be free!

Dayton

in the State of Nevada, and about nine miles from Virginia city, has been in the past, and is now, noted for being a large depot for cordwood. The Carson river runs through the town, and, during the rainy or winter season, carries in its bed a large body of water. This water, however, has but rather a brief carreer. It rushes by Dayton, and then onward some score or more miles, and disappears from sight for it sinks into the sand of the desert, and the place where it goes under is called the "Sink of the Carson." But this noble river does good service in its course all the way from Carson City and through Dayton. Several quartz mills use it instead of steam, for it is is cheaper. On the line of the river from Carson to Dayton, about fifteen miles, there are at least a dozen quartz mills, nearly all of them driven by water. These mills are supplied with rock from Virginia and Gold Hill mines; the grade from these latter places is terribly down hill to Dayton, so much so that the teamsters have to tighten the brake nearly all the distance down, nine miles, and the usual load of rock will go four to ten tons, to which 4 and 6 horses are mostly attached; not to pull the load down hill, to be sure, but to draw three to six cords of wood up hill, on the back tack, to Virginia and Gold Hill. Dayton has been an immense cordwood depot. But the timber is growing less every year, fifteen to twenty miles from Dayton, and the trees still receding. But the people are making a railroad from Carson City to Reno, the nearest point on the Central Pacific, to connect with that great road and then the wood on the line of the Truckee, all the way from Donner Lake, to Reno, fifty or sixty miles, can be got at. This Truckee railroad will cost well on to half a million of dollars, and it will be of immense benefit to Virginia City, Dayton, Washoe Carson and Gold Hill, and to the whole line of country along its route of forty or fifty miles through the Wahoe and Carson Valleys. The people of Dayton are very friendly and courteous to strangers. At least such was my experience among them. Dayton is the county seat for Lyon county, and judge W. Hayden, is the county judge, and he did patronize the Irish News for a while but grew weary in the good work, and gave it up in one of his moments of melancholy. We are sorry, not so much for ourselves, as for the judge. But Mr. Shaw, the popular sheriff of Lyon county, also patronized the Irish News for several years past, and always paid us for it like a hero, and he has not given it up, nor does he intend to give it up so long as it supports good honest union sentiments, which it does do, and always has done. Mr. Shaw has been elected to his present office of sheriff several terms past, and will be for several terms to come. So much for taking and paying for the Irish News. J. D. Cross, Esq., is proprietor and manager of the National Hotel in Dayton. Mr. Cross is an American gentleman and he also patronizes the Irish News, and showed us every courtesy and attention while we remained in his magnificent and well kept hotel. The general stage office, is in the National, and the stages leave regularly for Virginia, Gold Hill, Carson, etc. We recommend Mr. Cross and the National to all travelers who desire a good stoping and resting place. Mr. Wm. Norton still keeps his saloon, and he has been in the saloon business for several years in Dayton. P. H. Carling, formerly of the firm of Miller and Carling also keeps his old saloon, the Delta. Mr. P. O'Toole, a well known Irishman who was in the boot and shoe business in Gold Hill, and latterly in Dayton, picked up "all" his tools and off to White Pine he went.

Virginia City

the proud metropolitan city of the State of Nevada, is as well known by almost every body, that any more about it may seem superfluous. Yet something can be said even about it that is not generally known, and that may be interesting to some of our Irish friends, and, may be to the public generally. About four or five years ago the writer of these notes formed a Fenian Circle in the then youthful and vigorous city of Virginia—the city of bullion, of mills, and of shafts. This Circle grew and flourished for some two or three years, more or less. The numbers swelled from one hundred to many hundreds; a military company was raised and drilled in most admirable style, under Captain Ryan, quite an intelligent young Irishman, who was in due time succeeded by Captain Cahill. The circle and the company worked well and steady together in the Fenian harness. Benefits and balls put money in their purse, and in their treasury, and the orphans and the widows were not forgotten by them. In this way things went on nicely, until the "organizer" came around; they did not want him, for they were well organized already; but he wanted them, or rather their funds, for he took the funds, or at least the funds were voted to him, after a sharp opposition on the part of those of the Circle who thought he had no right to them, and who but a crazy man would thing otherwise. But the "organizer," after he had received twelve hundred dollars from the dupes, took his departure, and has not been seen in that locality since, nor heard from. He did not even give them a receipt for the booty! The persons who gave it to him, do not know even to this day what the "organizer" did with these same funds—this twelve hundred dollars. Oh Irishmen, how long will ye permit yourselves to be duped? From the day these funds were carried off, no Fenian Circle has existed in Virginia City. They seem to have disbanded themselves forever. So you can now see the beauty of the "organizer's" work! It speaks but little for the common sense, to say nothing of the intelligence of the Virginia Circle, that they allowed themselves thus to be shaved, duped, swindled But they don't stand alone in this respect, for the same "organizing" game has been played over and over again in many other places besides Virginia. It must be said of the Virginia Circle that it arose, flourished, and died; and that these events took place in almost rapid succession. I don't at all wonder that the Circle died out as it did. When I formed it at first, it was composed of sensible men; but it shortly afterwards got into the hands of men whose equals for egotism and shallow-patedness can hardly be found anywhere else. On my succeeding visits to Virginia I saw the seeds of its dissolut on had been sown, and were fast germinating. I counselled them, but they heeled not my counsel; even my paper, the Irish News, they rejected with an egotistic sneer on their lips. I shall never forget the time I called upon the Centre of the Gold Hill Circle, and asked him to subscribe for the Irish News. I forget the gentleman's name just now, but I found him in a blacksmith's shop. After I had introduced myself to him, and after I had named some gentleman who had sent me to him, he said—"Leave me a copy of your paper, and I will look over it, and I will give you my answer when you call again." So I left with him two copies of the Irish News for two days, and upon the third day I called for his answer, when he said he thought he would not subscribe. Very likely during these two days he had a consultation with some one of his chums, who was as shallow-pated as he was himself, and this chum or chums very sagely advised him not to subscribe. So you see this is the treatment an Irish journal, panting with a desire to see Ireland's nationality established, is treated by persons calling themselves Irishmen, and Irish patriots! No wonder, then, that their Circles have become extinct, they fell because of their individual nothingness. It is ever thus with all who refuse a generous support to the Irish News. This fact is very strikingly illustrated in the recent destruction of the mining town of You Bet, in Nevada county: As I was traveling past that town last winter, I stopped there over night, thinking to add to my subscription list for my paper a few names, more or less. But lo, and behold, not one name could I get, though there were several of the Irish persuasion around it. Even from one or two who had been taking it for some time before, not a cent could I get. So I left in high disgust; and now, only about three months later, the whole place is in ashes! How else could it be? "It is ever thus," etc. I think my friend the shoemaker is sorry by this time that he did not pay me.

Dutch Flat

who has not heard of Dutch Flat? And what has made it famous? Not the extreme richness of its mines—though these are very good; not the prominent location of the town, for the town is at the base of the hills, a flat low place, and was, at first, pretty well hemmed in by a majestic forest; but latterly the axe and the sawmill have cleared the forest and used up the trees. But it was the railroad or rather the railroads that made Dutch Flat more noted, than places of greater resources. It was the contest for an overland route that made the name come up. The war was for Placerville or Dutch Flat, and the latter won. That is the secret. In this war, it is said, plenty of ink and money were used up, and, as is always so, money won the route. Compared with other towns in California, there are not many Irish people in Dutch Flat. Much mining has been done there, and much gold has been taken out. But of late the mines are not worked so vigorously as formerly. There are two or three mills, in the suburbs, engaged in crushing the blue cement, which seems to run pretty freely in some places, at a little depth from the surface. The general tone of business at Dutch Flat is not at all so lively as formerly. J. B. Marcovich keeps the principal hotel, and keeps it very well. A stage connects with the railroad about a mile above, and then runs through to Nevada, fifteen miles, going through Little York, You Bet, that was, and Red Dog. Hon. E. L. Bradley is State Senator for Placer county, and has beenfor two or three terms. Mr. Bradley is owner and manager of one of the most extensive water ditches in the State, which supplies the mines and the town with water, and his office is but a few doors from the hotel. Mr. Bradley, I think, is an Irishman by birth, at any rate he supports the Irish News, and that is a good indication. Mr. Garret Pickett, another friend of ours, lived in Dutch Flat for a number of years, but he now resides in San Francisco with his family.

Gold Run

is three miles from Dutch Flat on the railroad track. This is a snug little town, only three years old. The town sprung up suddenly, owing, chiefly, to the rich mines in its vicinity. Some think that Gold Run is the superior in business and mining pursuits to Dutch Flat, and that if it is not now, soon will be. There is already one cement mill in its neighborhood, and the prospect is fair that more will be built. An excellent hotel is kept by Henry Hackett, and he does a lucrative business. His hotel is well fitted to do an extensive business. The place is a regular depot, and Mr. Hackett does an extensive business with the railroad attachees. In consequence of being "well up" in years, Mr. H. is desirous to sell out, or to exchange his property in Gold Run for ranch or farm property. Parties wishing to buy good productive property, or to exchange farming land, will do well to consult Mr. Hackett at Gold Run, Placer county. By seeing him or by addressing him by letter, they will learn all the particulars. He values his hotel property which includes a hall for assemblies, and a barn, at $3,000. He has received nearly $200 per month, rent for the whole, while he left them for a season. The business income of the hotel averages within a trifle of $2,000 per month.

Fall Creek

During my late visit to the northern part of Nevada county, I had not time to call at Fall Creek. But I have three good honest subscribers there, as will be seen by the following bully note which is dated April 15, and which I received in San Francisco on the morning of Monday, April 26, from one of my worthy subscribers there. The letter was ten or eleven days in coming, but it is none the worse for that. The snow is deep on the road it came, and it was snowed in. Here it is:—"Fall Creek, April 15, 1869. Mr. Nunan, dear sir: You sent me your paper to Fall Creek, when I was in Brooklyn, N. Y.; did Mr. B. Murphy tell you that? Now Sir, I want you to understand that it is fourteen miles from this camp to Washington, and we have plenty of snow, so you must judge there is very little transit. So now, sir, the first chance I have of any person going down to Nevada, I shall avail myself of the opportunity to send you the price of your paper for James Carr and myself. I shall ask Welsh, also. I am going down to Nevada myself pretty soon. At present it would cost a man nearly $20 to go to Nevada from this place. After the snow gets off the ground I shall have chance enough. You can rely on my word. Yours, M. J. Feely." Now there is an honest man and no mistake. We set him up as an example for some more towns in Nevada county. Yes, and we will guarantee that he will be as good as his word. What do the Omega boys and the Patterson (Cherokee) boys say to this. Is there any among them that will follow the good example here set them by this honest Irishman. Mr. Feely not only will send us his own subscription, but he will go around among his neighbors and try and induce them to send theirs' also. He knows the right way to appreciate an Irish newspaper. Prosperity and good luck will surely attend Mr. Feely, and every one who does as he does towards supporting an Irish newspaper.

By the brig Natilus, from Auckland via Tahiti, we have Australasian dates to February 24th. From the Auckland Herald of December 2d we learn that an attack was made on the Hanhans at Wellington, and eight of the enemy killed. In its issue of January 16th it gives a journal of events of the war on the east coast, at Poverty Bay, which is highly important. Ngatepe has fallen, and the Kooti was defeated by Colonel Whitmore. Between 100 and 200 Hanhans were killed, and 100 prisoners taken. The Kooti was badly wounded, and the Colonial forces were in pursuit of the fugitives. Inspector Brown was killed, and Sub-Inspector Capel wounded. The Cononial loss was 11 killed and ten wounded. On the west coast five Hanan villages were burned and large crops destroyed. A terrible massacre occurred at the White Cliffs, Taranaki, February 15th, during which Lieuten't Glasgoone, wife, family and six settlers were killed. The butchers were all coming into town in a great state of alarm. The public offices and stores in the town were all closed and ensigns floating at half mast.

New York, April 22.—The Herald's London special says the London papers comment very freely on the present state of affairs in Cuba. The Telegraph, a Ministerial organ of a moderate tone, says that in regard to the independence of Cuba, England is unbiased, but, at the same time, admits that England's interest can be best subserved by Spain retaining her authority over the Island. The article does not say, however, that in any case it shall be the business of England to interfere to prevent Cuban independence, but it maintains that the good opinion of England might prove useful to avert a quarrel between Spain and America. It designates the seizure of the ship Mary Lowell as a mad act, implicating England—Spain's best friend—unless the latter country offers reparation for the insult. The article then goes on the argue that the Cubans can never willingly attach themselves to the United States.

The London Owl of this evening, speaking of the matter, says that President Grant seems to have gone mad on the subject of Cuba. It thinks England and France would declare war if America attemped to wrest the Island from Spain. The Owl says President Grant longs for a foreign war, knowing, as he does, that the feeling at present pervading America applies in a less degree to France.

It is stated that in a day or two a yacht will be despatched from here to Cuba on a mission from the Government to ascertain the exact position of affairs. There is a belief that a very heavy storm is brewing, which may occasion much trobls yet.

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

Mayo.

Recently at Mount Gordon, a short distance from Castlebar, a girl five years old, the daughter of Thomas Kilcoyne, while her mother was out for water, had incautiously gone too near the fire, when her dress immediately became a frightful flame and the poor little thing was burned to death before assistance could be had.

Sligo.

The petition against the election of Major Knox proprietor of the Irish Times, has resulted in his being unseated and ordered to pay all costs of the petition. Judge Keogh in giving his decision, after a very long trial, said:—I shall declare the election void; and that Major Knox was by his agents guilty of bribery, but that it was not shown to me, that the acts were done by his knowledge. I shall also report that it has been proved, and I believe, that corrupt pratices have extensively prevailed in the borough of Sligo. I must also come to the conclusion that the necessary consequence must follow— namely, that Major Knox must pay the costs of the petition.

It is said that on the night of the 19th ult., some nine or ten men called at the house of a man named John Lynch at Rathbarn, near Coolaney, county Sligo, took him outside where they presented a pistol at his head and made him promise on his knees that he would no longer work for a man named Doyle, who has made himself unpopular in the neighborhood. The party then left, warning Lynch not to bring them back again by committing a breach of his promise.

Cork.

In the Court of Probate, Dublin, an action was recently brought by William McDonald, to test the validity of the will of the late Patrick Clancy, of Kildorrey, county Cork, who died in April 1867. The defendant to the suit was Thomas Clancy. The will and codicils were disputed on the grounds of want of testamentary capacity, of undue influence used with the testator by the defendant and one John Sherry, and of undue execution. The jury found in favor of the will and codicils.

Limerick.

On the 20th ult., the funeral of the late lamented John O'Donnell, Esq., solicitor, and clerk of the crown for the county of Limerick, took place, and in extent and numbers was the most respectable witnessed in Limerick for years, owing to the esteem in which he was so deservedly held by all classes of citizens. The interment took place in the Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery, whither the cortege was led by the clergy, wearing white scarfs and hat bands, the Lord Bishop in purple robes, preceding the hearse, which was followed by the son, brother, relatives of deceased, and a long line of mourners, with the Meyor and members of the Corporation, members of the legal profession, board of guardians, Farmers' Club, Chamber of Commerce, Limerick Institution, Town Hall reading room, Athenæum Market Trustees, &c.; several of the members of the Limerick Club, the traders, and citizens generally, to the number of more than one thousand, in rows of four deep. This large concourse was closed by a long line of private equipages, sepresenting the respectability of the city and county—total number, 62; and by the time the funeral reached the cemetery, which is a mile and a quarter distant, the last carraige had not moved from its stand opposite the church of St. Michael, in which a requiem mass and office had previously been offered for the repose of Mr. O'Donnell's soul.

A correspondent of the Irish Times writing from Glin on the 23d ult., says: As Mr. E. Goggin, accompanied by his wife and child, was returning from Tarbert about mid-day, he was fired at from behind a fence at a place called Court. The old story over again—ejectment proceedings at the forthcoming assizes this outrage is attributed to.

A Limerick correspondent, under date Feb. 24th, tells of an extraordinary escape on that morning from the county jail, of a man named Hourigan. With the stout leg of his cell table, he bent the iron window bars sufficiently apart to admit his body through. He then denuded himself of every particle of clothing except trowsers, stockings, and shoes, and forcing his body through the opened bars, dropped into the yard. Then came the high and smoothed-surfaced wall, up which ran a four-inch gas-pipe to supply a lamp above, and by means of this he ascended the inner wall; on the top, he perceived that a gulf of sixteen feet yawned between him and the outer wall, which he sprang to and tumbled off to the grass plat below, from which he readily escaped into the open county; so that at daybreak he was seen in the neighborhood of Bruff, and thought to be a maniac.

Patrick Riordan, of Kilmallock, died on the 23d ult. One of his sons was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for having acted as aide-de-camp to Captain Dunn during the "rising" at Kilmallock; he is now in Australia. His other son was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for alleged complicity in the Fenian movement. The father died without seeing either, but there were good men and true enough in Kilmallock to carry him to his grave. May the earth lie lightly on him. May God bless the cause for which his sons suffer.

The Dingle correspondent of the Examiner says: For some time past a good deal of loose timber, with other wreckage, has been seen floating off the land and washed ashore on this coast.

Among the wreck picked up at sea or otherwise got on shore are the following: A piece of a ship's deck on which is a steamer's funnel, with all the gear attached, and a large piece of a ship's stern with no name on. I am indebted to the Hon Captain De Moleyns for fragments of wreck (which were sent in to him by some of the tenantry on Lord Ventry's property) on which are the following:—A piece of the stern of a vessel with gilt letters sunk into the timber, "Emanuel," but the port from which she had hailed is gone; the stern board of a ship's boat, on which are the following decorations: the royal coat of arms Great Britain, the crown which is surmounted by a cross, the lion and unicorn, and Irish harp, the rose, shamrock and thistle. The circle underneath the crown bears the full emblazonry of the royal standard, with mottoes, &c. It has been beautifully carved and gilt.

Tipperary.

It is said that the friends of Mr. J. Lyster O'Beirne, ex-M.P., intend giving him a public banquet in Cashel, as a testimonial of their satisfaction with his parliamentary career. It is also said that W. R. Collett will be a candidate at the next election. In former times his father sat for Cashel during a term of twenty years.

Waterford.

The Waterford Citizens of a late date, says: Many of our readers are aware of the fact that the Very Rev. J. A. Anderson, prior of the Augustinians, is about removing from Dungarvan to Cork, his Provincial being reluctantly obliged to send the Rev. F. Williams, O. S. A., to replace him pro. tem., until the appointment of another Prior by a Chapter of the Order. The reason of this charge is also very generally known to be the withdrawal of faculties for hearing confessions from Father Anderson, by the Bishop of the diocese in consequence of his patriotic and successful exertions against the return of Serjeant Barry, for the borough of Dungarvan, at last election.

The Waterford News in recording the late victary of the celebrated greyhound, "Master McGrath," (the twice champion at Waterloo, England), says that the dog was bred by Mr. Galway, agent of Lord Dartrey. Also, that the hound takes his name from a boy who trained and gave him his early leaps at Gligan, and who we are glad to know has not been without profiting by his success.

The News of the 26th ult., announces with regret the demise Mr. John Farrel, of Beresford street secretary to the Waterfoad Harbor Commissioners.

The same journal in commenting on the state of the local markets says: The price of pigs in the Waterford market this time twelve months was 42s to 44s. per cwt., and Indian corn from 27s to 28s. per barrel. At the present time the value of pigs is 65s. to 66s. per cwt., with Indian corn only 19s. per barrel. With the last two months there has been a considerable fall in the price of all kinds of grain. Stocks large, and demands slow.

Londoadary, (Ireland,) April 53, —Riots occurredd here yesterday, between the Catholics and Orangemen. During the collisien, the police charge upo both parties, and firearms were freely used. The Catholic Cathedral being built at the corner of Fiftieth street and Fifth avenue, N. Y., will be the most extensive religious edifice in the United State. It covers an entire square, and is estimated to cost, when finished, nearly $2,000,000. The walls are rising slowly, hardly more than twenty or thirty feet having been put up thus far, and it will require several years to complete the building.

A meeting was held in the Brooklyn Hotel on Wednesday evening to take steps towards the formation of an association of the nature therein mentioned. Mr. Thomas Mooney called the meeting to order and explained its purposes—to purchase large tracts of land in the interior of the State, divide the same, and sell every alternate tract to immigrants at reasonable prices. Rev. Father H. P. Gallagher and others endorsed the plan proposed. A Committee of fifteen was appointed by the Chairman to report by-laws and permanent officers. A resolution was adopted that the stock be divided into 500,000 shares of $100 each, payable in instalments of $1 a month.

The Australian mails bring account of the destruction by fire of St. Mary's temporary cathedral Sydney. This is the third time the Cathedral of Sydney has been burned down. In June, 1865, the last fire took place, when the chief office was destroyed. The origin of the fire in the present instance seems to be involved in mystery, and at a meeting held subsequently for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of erecting another structure, all the speakers seemed to think that it was the work of an incendiary. The fire was discovered about half past three o'clock on the morning of the 4th of January, and in less than half an hour the building was burned to the foundations. The total looss occasioned by the fire is estimated at from £4,000 to £5,000. The Archbishop's vestments and the vestments of the clergy were valued at about £1,000, and fully £500 worth more had been purchased since the peevious fire. It is estimated that the temprary structure itself cost about £2,000, and the loss of the furniture, fittings, etc., is also to be taken into account. Altogether, the losses are not nearly covered by its insurance. It is stated that the magnificent gold communion service presented by the Queen of Spain was not within the building, and has therefore escaped injury.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Overland Monthly, for May, is as usual, most excellent. It contains much original matter that is instructive and entertaining. The ability and industry it shows, will put some of our heretofore prominent monthlies in the shade.

EXTENSIVE DRUGGISTS.—The firm of R. H. McDonald & Co., druggists and Agents, San Francisco, is the most extensive on this coast in the drug line. Dr. McDonald, himself, is a pioneer druggist in this State, having conducted the business in Sacramento for many years. The firm still conduct their house in Sacramento, and have also a house in New York, and agencies in the principal Eastern cities, and Europe. Business is done on a very extensive scale, and the good reputation of the house is established. We need only say to all dealers that the firm of McDonald & Co., will attend to all orders in their line, from the smallest article used to the largest order, and give their customers entire satisfaction. We guarantee this to be so, for we have known the firm and its principals for many years.

The brighest of Jewels in the daidem of joy. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters cures every disease the human family is subject to by the process of purifying the blood and invigoration the whole system. It is the building material for Health and Happiness.

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE.—It is not a gilded pill to delight the eye or please the fancy, but it is a true medicine placed in the hands of the people for their relief, and no person can take it according to the directions, and remain long unwell. It may seem incredible that many cases codsidered hopelessly incurable, have been frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigaiton of the liberri minded and scientific to the cures it has made. Such is Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters, a safe and harmless remedy. Buy it, try it and be cured.

The stomach is the great center which influences the health or disease of the system. Abused or debilitated by excess, indigestion, headaches and physical prostration are the natural consequences. The liver becomes affected, and costiveness, diarrhea and dyspeptic affections ensue. Fo medicine is more happily conbined to give health and tone to the stomach, and to purify the system than Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters a remedy safe, speedy and effectual. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial.

To make home pleasant should be the aim and study of every man and woman. The means for the accomplishment of this desired object, are diverse and varied as the dispositions of human beings. Very few realize that the many petty ills arise from so slight a cause, or that the many happy reunions and pleasant home hours are marred from so little a thing as the neglect of preserving the teeth, and keeping the breath sweet and agreeable. To secure these advantage there is no other dentifrice so pleasant and convenient as Dr. Sbenser's Fragrant Sapoine.

AN IMPURE BREATH.—Perhaps among all the disagreeable consequences that follow from the decay af the teeth "an impure breath" must be the most mortifying to its possessor, as it is the most generally offensive in society. The most efficient and agreeable remedy for those unpleasant results, is Dr. Spencer's Fragrant Sapoine, a compound of the choicest and most recherche ingredients of the vegetable world, and is of inestimable value in the preservation of the health and beauty of the teeth and gums.

Sweet Kisses—These exquisite privileges of kindred love and friendship, are but too often marred by neglect of teeth and breath. There is scarcely anything more repugnan, to a refined taste, than this neglect while the pleasure of a kiss is immensely improved by the charm of rosy lips and sweet breath. Then brush those rows of ivory with that gem of the toilet Dr. Spencer's Fragrant Sapoine. It will give a pearly whiteness to the teeth, a healthiness to the gums, and a fragrance of flowers to the breath.

"BY THIS SIGN YE SHALL CONQUER."—When the Emperor Constantine adopted his famous battle symbol, he wrote beneath it in hoc signo vinces—"By this sign ye shall conquer." The same inscription might properly be affixed to another sign which is the symbol of thousands of successful battles with the bodily ailments of mankind. "S. T. 1860 X," the trade mark of the famous PLANTATION BITTERS, typifies more victories than Constantine the Great ever dreamed of. Victories over dyspepsia, nervousness, general dibility, biliousness, fever and ague, remittent fever, despondency, constitutional weekness, and a hundred other disorders and disabilities of both sexes to which the heathen assailants of the Eastern Emperor were a mere bagatelle. Whenever an invalid sees the emblem, let him take the hint it is intended to give him, purchase the elixir, and conquer his complaint.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION
OF THE
MECHANICS' INSTITUTE
San Francisco.

The Board of the Mechanics' Institute of the City of San Francisco take pleasure in announciug that the Seventh Industrial Exhibition will open in the City of San Francisco, on Tudsday, the 14th day of September, 1869, at 11 o'clock A. M., with appropriate ceremonies. A finely constructed building has been completed and fitted up, at an expense of $45,000, covering a grounh are of 70,000 feet, suitably provided with facilities (free of cost to exhibitors) for the proper exposition of goods. It is thoroughly ventilated, and lighted at night by 15,000 gas jets. A fine pond, 42 by 24 feet, having three fountains, throwing water 50 feet high, and surrounded by numerous small sprays, animates the scene, and keeps the atmosphers cool and refreshing. Two seris of galleries surround the main nave, with accommodatron to seat 1500 persons in the lower gallery, and room for 2000 more to promenade in the upper one. A line of shafting 200 feet in length, provided with all the necessary pulleys, etc., and driven by powerful steam engines, furnishes power to working machinery and modles. A Band of fifty musicians discourse music to visieors every evening, and all requirements of the inner man are provided for by the necessary restarants, etc. The Board of Directors will share no effort to make this the most attractive and instructive exhibition of the industries of the Pacific Coast, and particularly of California; and in this they have the hearty co operation and assurance of all the leading manufacturers on this Coast, It is intended to make it essentially cosmopolitan, and exhibitors have been invited from China, Japan, Hawaiian Islands, British Columbia, Mexico, Chili, Peru, and various other points of interest. San Francisco, occupying geographically the most important commercial position in the world, has by the completion of the of the great Pcific Rail road, andthe recently organized line of steamers carrying the United States mail to Japan and China, become so in trade, and is, in fact, the entrepot of commercial exchange between Europe and Asia, being thirty days to China and seventeen to Europe. Her president gives but an inkling of her future; and the Directors of the Mechanics' Institute invite strangers to visit this City during the term of the Seventh Industrial Exhibition to witness what has been done in so far distant and, until now, isolated a country, toward the economic industry and civilization. Strangers and visitors will find San Francisco well provided with hotels, and they can rest assured of of be hospitably treated by its citizans. The natural wonders of California are varied and extonsive, all being now within comparative easny reach by rail, steamer, or stage, and from San Francisco, ocean steamers convey passenger to all parts of the world, The Managers will be glad to reciev desirable articles for exhigition, and will accord space for the same if application be made before the first day of August next, stating definitely the character of the exhibit, and the amount and kind of space required. All articles intended for exhibition must reach here by the first day of September following. Desired information can be obtrined by addressing J. H. Gilmore, Corresponding Secretary of the Mechanics' Institute of the City of San Francisco, to whom all communications must be addressed, or articles intended for exhibition can be consigned. By order of the Board of Directors of the Mechanics' Institute of the City of San Francisco.

BEAR TESTIMONY TO THE
Wonderful curative Effects of
DR. JOSEPH WALKER'S

CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
The Great Blood Purifier.

These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.

"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof." Purify the Blood and the health of the whole system will follow. It is a Double Purgative as well as a Tonic.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores: Cleanse it when you find it obstructed or sluggish in the veins: Cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflamation of the Lungs, Copious Discharge of the Urine, Pain in the Region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offspring of this Dyspepsia. For these troubles take Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, and quickly all painful symptoms will disappear.

It is a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic,

Possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. In this respect, these Bitters have no equal.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Whether in the Young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters displsy so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon preceptible in the health of the patient.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout,

These Bitters have been most successful. They are caused by vitiated blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands on this Coast are effectually destroyed and removed.

Morbid Condition of the Blood.

This is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Tetter or Salt Rheum, Ringworm Boils, Carbuncles, Sores, Unlcers, Pimples, and eruptions of all kinds. For the cure of these various affections, which are merely symptoms of a morbid condition of the blood, medical science and skill have not, as yet, discovered a Blood Purifier, equal to Walker's Vinegar Bitters Disease of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder.

It thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor and bad taint, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition. It is perfectly harmless, never producing the slightest injury.

Bilious Remittent and Intermittent Fevers,

Which are so prevalent in the Valleys of the Pacific Coast, especially those of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and their tributaries, during the Summer and Autumn and especially during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied with extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. There are always more or less obstructions of the liver, a weakness and irritable state of the stomach, and torpor of the bowels, being clogged up with vitated accumulations. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for this purpose equal to Dr. J. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver and restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs generally. The universal popularity of this valuable remedy in regions subject to miasmatic influences, is sufficient evidence of its power as a remedy in such diseases.

DR. JOS. WALKER'S

VINEGAR BITTERS,
Manufactured from the native Herbs and Roots of California, are
The great Blood Purifier and Life-Giving Principal.
To all whom it May Concern.

READER—Do not cast this aside with a look of contempt. If you chance to be one of the lucky few who are never ailing, preserve this and hand it to your invalid friend, that he may know the means of becoming well hearty and vigorous and to live to die of old age.

Four years ago I was what I thought, "a used up man" which was also the opinion of my friends and acquaintances.

I had the Consumption, Bronchitis, Palpitation of the Heart, Piles, Rheumatism in my Hips. My legs became paralyzed, and my whole side partially so, I was then in California and was given up by the Physicians as incurable. I tried everything I thought would help me that I could find in the apothecary shops, but to no purpoce. Die I thought I must.

One day I was near a camp of Indians, and found them gathering and picking herbs. I enquired what they used them for, and they told me. I then went to experimenting on a compound which I perfected and commenced taking, and to my utter surprise, in three weeks was able to attend to my business, and after taking it eight months I felt better than I ever did in my life and considered myself well.

Many persons who knew my former condition were surprised when they saw how well and hearty I was, and came to me for the medicine for themselves and friends. In fact, with my small means of manufacturing, I could not supply the demand. I had to put them up in jugs, junk bottles and anything I could get, and found they produced such astonishing effects upon all diseases, that I thought it my duty to put them within the reach of all suffering humanity.

I moved to San Francisco, and commenced putting them up, calling them J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

I have disposed of hundreds of thousands of bottles, and, to my knowledge, not a single person who has taken them but it has helped or cured. On women its effect is magical, making the old fresh and vigorous, and giving to the young, life and ambition.

Now I assert without fear of successful contradiction that there is no disease these Bitters will not cure, providing the lungs are not too far gone, or the bones not destroyed by minerals or other means. People may call me a humbug, and Doctors may cry out against me, and well they may, for their occupation is gone.

In conclusion, to the afflicted let me say, give my Bitters a trial; it is all I ask—they will speak for themselves.

I am now sixty-five years of age, well, hearty and happy, and as spry as a man of twenty-five, and expect to live, with every sense acute, to be one hundred years of age, the time allotted to all who take proper care of themselves.

Respectfully Yours.
JOSEPH WALKER.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
Disorders of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels.
The stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—Indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints, and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates billious disorders, pains in the side, etc. The Bowels sympathise by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentry. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.
Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,
Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to those the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.
Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.
Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.
Eruptions on the Skin.
Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetic and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashness and other disfigurements of the face.
Female Complaints.
Whether in the young or old, married or single at the dawn of Womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.
Piles and Fistula.
Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emollient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.
Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Swelled Glands,
Burns,	Sore Legs,
Chapped Hands,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Sore Throats,
Gout,	Sores of all kinds,
Lumbago,	Sprains,
Mercurial Eruptions,	Stiff Joints,
Piles,	Tetter,
Rheumatism,	Ulcers,
Ringworm,	Venereal Sores,
Salt Rheum,	Wounds of all kinds,
Scalds. Skin Diseases.

CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

QUICK CURES .....AND..... MODERATE CHARGES.

DOCTOR DOHERTY'S

Private Medical and Surgical Institute.

SACRAMENTO STREET.

Below Montgomery,
(Opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office.) Private entrance on Leidesdorff st., San Francisco.

Established Expressly to afford the Afflicted sound and scientific Medical Aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all sexual disorders.

To the Afflicted.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all Private Diseases, viz.: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of Self-abuse; Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc.; and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to insure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references of unquestionable veracity from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment and implicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates, from two of his patients, who, having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a notary public. The welfare of society imperiously demands their publicity, and they are given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician, of whom hundreds of like cases can be cited, during a practice of more than fifteen years.

A CASE OF GLEET AND STRICTURE.

DR. DOHERTY—Dear Sir: I find my health so fully restored that, in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some written acknowledgment for your valuable services—particularly so as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. The latter was so bad that I feared an entire stoppage of urine. Being a stranger in this city, and believing that those Doctors who gave most positive assurances of success were necessarily the best, I placed myself in their charge, and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money.

I wish to say now that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed, and the only one that has ever done me any service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the Stricture is all removed, and my general health is better than it has been for years.

In conclusion, I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you should employ, ask DR. DOHERTY for my address, and call and see me. (I keep store in this city.) My experience may save you many dollars.

I would also add, that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorrhœa, Gleet, etc., but never derived any benefit from them.

I am, Doctor, very truly, yours, L—— H——

SEMINAL WEAKNESS—A SWORN-TO CERTIFICATE OF MOST REMARKABLE CURE OF SPERMATORRHŒA.

A desire to benefit suffering humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to DR. W. K. DOHERTY, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I had been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal Weakness, the result of self-abuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience; in that year, however, I had Seminal Weakness to a fearful extent, which was soon followed by the most alarming symptoms, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind, too, was affected to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory; my ideas were confused and spirits depressed. I was averse to society, had evil forebodings and self-distrust, and was entirely unfitted for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the Summer of 1863, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars, but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief. I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but reading Dr. Doherty's advertisement, I thought I should call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with the Doctor at his office, in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable, I determined to try him, though I did not expect much benefit from his treatment. On the 5th of December last, I placed myself under his care; in one week I found myself very much improved, and now, after five weeks treatment, I feel myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles, and in the enjoyment of the best health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself,

JAMES JOHNSTON.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, she should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about her troubles and disease. Irregularities, suppressions, etc, will receive the Doctor's most particular attention. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All married Ladies, whose delicate health or other circumstances prevents an increase to their families, should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The doctor's offices, consisting of a suit of six rooms, are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients (male or female) residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty in their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred and confidential.

If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communications will be unnecessary as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case itself (including the remedies) will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to conceal no idea of the purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted. Consultation (at the office or by letter,) FREE. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Address,

MANHOOD—IN THE YUONG

and rising generation, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the palid hue, the lack-luster eye, and emanciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movments. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with great anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving powers in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the systemare prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so facinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parient's heart bleed in anxiety, and faancied the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCPU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretits, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakess, Horor of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vission, Langour, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Palid Countenance and Eruption on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desireaple to such patients than Solitude and nothiug they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness. no Speculation, but a hurried Trausition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits. in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Suprentendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reoson had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently follwed by those direful diseases Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In the Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voic occur, it is rarley articulate.

"With Woeful Measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we reget the existence of the above diseases and symptoms. we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemestry for the removal of the consequences: HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used it or prescribed it.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir:

Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a Drug Stote the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your BUCHU. It was then highly commended for other diceases by two physicians present. Inclosed please find our rates of advertising.

Yours, &c.'

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers)

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Two bottles only of toe package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chamber maid who has charge of his bedding

I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding Schools and Asylums an amount of annoyance; and many a poor child suffering more from weakness than habit, may be spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping that others may be alike benefitted.

I am respectfully
COL. YOUNG,
General Sup't and Director.

THE APPETITE FOR TOBACCO DESTROYED!!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed Tobacco.

ORTON'S PREPARATION!!

ESTABLISHED 1866.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobcaco, in any person, no matter how strong the bit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. It is almost impossible to break off the use of Tobacco, by mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature but so firmly rooted. is overcoming a habit the Preparation, With the help of least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact, that Orton's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for Tobacco, and leaves the person as free from any desire for it, as before he commenced its use. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleaning the poison of Tobacco from the system and thus allaying the unnatural cravings for Tobacco. No more hankering for Tobacco after using Orton's Preparation. Recollect it is warranted.

The time taken to allay all desires for Tobacco by the use of the Preparation varies slightly in different persons, the average time being about Five days. Some have no desire for Tobacco whatever after using the Preparation Two days.

The Health and Purse of every Tobacco user in the country calls loudly, Abandon the use of Tobacco.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are the few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

We, the undersingned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and can assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparations will certainly destroy the appetite for Tobacco quickly and permanently, and without any bad effect upon the health, and without creating an appetite either for the preparation or any substitute:

W. P. Heald, Bangor, Maine; J. Moody, Southport, Indiana; E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.; John Merill, Bangor, Maine; J. Bunch, Springfield, Tenn; W. D. Harrington, West Point, Georgia;

From Samuel Cassiday, Editor Journal and Argus, Petaluma, California, Dec. 14, 1865.

For about twenty years I had used tobacco in its various forms, and for the past eight years had been an inveterate smoker. Becoming satisfied that the excessive use of this narcotic was imparing my health, I determined, if possible, to break myself of the habit. Hearing of Orton's Preparation for destroying the appetite for tobacco, I sent to Portland, Me. for a box of the medicine, which I received through the mail, on the 17th of November. A month has not elapsed and yet the medicine has effectually relieved me from any craving or desire to use tobacco in any form, the Preparation is not more difficult or unpleasant to take than common chewing gum. I conscientiously believe the Preparation will have the promised and desired effect in every instance where it is given a fair trial. Upon that belief, and from an honest desire to assist others who wish to break away from the slavish appetite for tobacco, I offer this testimonial. SAMUEL CASSIDAY.

☞ Beware of Counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his duly authorized Agents.

The price of Orton's Preparation is $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5.00, sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with passage paid on receipt of price.

How to send money by mail.—Enclose the amount in a letter, seal carefully, register the letter and take a receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail as above directed at my risk.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Every Man his own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

.....AND.....

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels.

The stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints, and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates billious disorders, pains in the side, etc. The Bowels sympathise by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentry. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum.

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these th Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then completes the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin.

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It supersedes many of the cosmetic and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashness and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

A Case of Twenty Years' Standing.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 25, 1865.

DEAR SIR—I have been a sufferer for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experimenting but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your extract Buchu.

B

I did this because I used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and were quite prejudiced against them; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of Buchu leaves and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and with the advice of my physician as an excellent combination, and with the advice after an examination of the article, and consulting with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

O

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought it unnecessary, as I could only be temporary, and, therefore, concluded to defer it until I see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I AM NOW ABLE TO REPORT THAT A PERFECT CURE HAS BEEN THE USING THE REMEDY FOR FIVE MONTHS.

I HAVE NOT USED ANY MORE FOR THREE MONTHS, AND FEEL AS WELL IN ALL RESPECTS AS I EVER DID.

YOUR Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste or odor, a tonic and invigorator of the system, I shall always mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.
